Alphabet Soup

Neighborly

What does it take to be a good neighbor?

Does it mean checking out what people are doing in their yards? Cleaning up after the neighbor's dog?

Maybe it's about listening to what they have to say. Really listening.

If it makes sense to help out. You might want to extend yourself.

As a child my mom told me to go help Grandma Wehmeyer and chop her wood for the kitchen stove. So, for two seasons, that's what I did. Did I get paid? No. Did I want to get paid? No. Mom told me I was being neighborly.

After I chopped wood, Grandma would invite me into her living room and we would talk.

Her house smelled old. There were few furnishings, the carpet was thin. She had a fuel oil stove in the living room that smelled.

One day I had to tell Grandma that her cat had been run over by a train.

That was a hard day for both me and Grandma Wehmeyer. I was only in Cub Scouts.

Who was Grandma Wehmeyer to me? After she passed, my mom told me that she came over to visit mom when mom was a new mother and helped her with the new baby — me. Sort of showed mom the ropes like changing diapers on a boy, etc.

Granma Wehmeyer's son was killed in World War I and she was a lost soul. She had no one else to help her.

In those bye-gone days, that's what neighbors did for each other.

We were there for each other.

WHAT PEOPLE SAY

“The essence of leadership is vision. You can't blow and uncertain trumpet.”

Father Theodore Hesburgh

Dad was a small town photographer in the days of B&W film: wedding, portrait, commercial, events, he did it all. I remember when I was small, sometimes he would set up the camera and I would be able to press the cable release for him. He showed me how to develop and print film. Dad's photography left me with some great memories. Later in life, I found myself drawn back to photography. I decided to pick up a camera. My dad has long since passed, but when I take a picture, I am connected with him. --
